

MAN WHO ARRESTED
TUCKER NOW SAYS:

"HE WAS INNOCENT"

FREDERICK A. TARBOX,
Former Police Chief of Newton, Who Arrested Tucker as Suspect in Page Murder Case.

In Dr. Harris "Bordereau" Proceedings, SUMMON G. V. GUILD

Ordered to Produce Famous Document in Equity Motion Court on Monday.

Governor Guild was today summoned to appear in the Equity Motion Session of the Superior Court at 11 o'clock on Monday to testify in the injunction proceedings that have been brought against the BOSTON AMERICAN to prevent the further publication of the famous "Bordereau" written by Medical Examiner Francis A. Harris, in which he declared that he had demonstrated the innocence of Charles Louis Tucker. The Governor has been ordered by the court to bring with him a copy of this document, which was suppressed until the AMERICAN obtained a copy and published two installments, when further publicity was prevented by the injunction suit brought by the law firm of Deane, B. Davis & Ross.

Must Produce Document.
In the summons which was served on the Governor at the State House this language is used:
"Bring with you the manuscript by Francis A. Harris with you as Governor, and now in the files of your office, entitled, 'Massachusetts Bordereau Affair.'"
This important document, which has proven one of the most sensational features of this remarkable case, was presented to the Governor in connection with the public hearing when a communication of the death sentence of Tucker was asked by his counsel, James H. Vaher.

Valley Also Summoned.
When the Governor received the summons, he consulted with Attorney-General Deane, Madsen about the matter. The Governor is expected to be called upon to tell all about how the document came into his hands at the Tucker hearing.

To give similar information Senator Vaher was also today summoned to be present at the hearing on Monday.

BAR RAILROAD KINGS FROM FLEEING PROBE

GOVERNMENT, IN HARRIMAN INQUIRY, ORDERS SUBPOENAS ISSUED.

By Boston American Learned Wire.
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Attorneys Frank R. Kellogg and C. A. Severance, representing the United States government in the railroad investigation pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission, today notified the District Attorney of New York to issue subpoenas against E. H. Harriman, J. H. Rogers, H. P. Fitch, William Rockefeller and James A. Sullivan, Jr., directors of the New York Central Railroad.

Word reached the officials, it is said, that the millionaires involved are planning to flee the country and have made preparations to go to Europe to prevent being compelled to testify before the commission.

"I HAVE EVIDENCE THAT A CERTAIN WOMAN KILLED MABEL PAGE"

Frederick A. Tarbox, Former Chief of Newton Police, Makes Startling Disclosures Regarding Page Crime—Three Knives Like Tucker's Owned by Boatmen.

Another person who was instrumental in securing the conviction of Charles L. Tucker now comes to the front and declares he believes Tucker was innocent.

Ex-Chief of Police Frederick A. Tarbox of Newton, THE MAN WHO ARRESTED TUCKER, declared yesterday to a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter that he is now convinced Tucker was innocent of the crime for which he was electrocuted.

This development, coming so soon after the dismissal of Medical Examiner Harris, because of his change of testimony in the Tucker case, will be a surprise to many persons who have believed all along that Tucker was a victim of circumstantial evidence.

Both Dr. Harris and ex-Chief Tarbox helped convict Tucker. Both now declare it unequivocally that he was innocent.

Executed for Another's Crime.
"If I were to die to-night it would be with the firm belief that Charles L. Tucker was electrocuted for the crime of a 'cr.' said ex-Chief Tarbox yesterday to the BOSTON AMERICAN reporter.

"I HAVE EVIDENCE THAT A WOMAN KILLED MABEL PAGE."
Ex-Chief Tarbox in his statement to an AMERICAN reporter made known the fact that he saw Chief Sias of the State police pocket surreptitiously in Tucker's pocket the knife which figured in the trial. He declared that Chief Shaw afterwards drew the sheath from Tucker's pocket and with the air of having made a great discovery, said to Tucker: "What is this? Is it yours?"

SLAYER A WOMAN, TARBOX DECLARES
Ex-Chief Tarbox, formerly chief of police in Newton, a native of New England, is now a prominent farmer in Maine. He is a member of the BOSTON AMERICAN. He declared his firm belief that Charles Louis Tucker did not kill Mabel Page, and that the woman who killed her was a woman named Sias, who was a member of the Newton Police force at the time of the murder.

Death Pin Lost 3 Weeks.
In discussing the lost "death pin" which was found in the body of Mabel Page, Tarbox said that it had been lost last night of the day when Chief McArthur of Westbury took the pin from Tucker's coat. He said that he had been looking for it for three weeks and added: "The pin was only brought back to the light of day when Chief McArthur of Westbury found it in the pocket of the dead woman's coat."

Special to the Boston American.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.—Twelve-year-old Thomas Salvatore is under arrest on a charge of manslaughter in causing the death of his five-year-old brother, ten-year-old playmate, Luigi Carocella, by throwing a stone at him. It was thought at the time that Carocella's death was due to his being shaken by an iron lamp-post.

There was considerable mystery about Carocella's death, which occurred about five months before, in the arrest of Salvatore. When Carocella died the police investigation was not complete. The coroner in question had given the lad a thorough examination, but the police had not had time to do so. No one knew about the alleged stone-throwing.

It was learned that that they have learned that several days before his death, and before he was shaken by the stone-thrower, the Carocella boy was hit on the head by a stone thrown by his brother, Salvatore, that his skull was fractured. The police now regard this as the primary cause of the death.

The par value of the stock of the Douglas Copper Company is $5 per share, so that at the present price it represents an advance above par of nearly 150%.

evidence of this the sales are comparatively small, seldom exceeding 1,000 shares per day. If the shares were being manipulated for the purpose of making quotations, it would be just as easy to cause to be reported 10,000, 20,000,

20,000 or 40,000 shares per day traded in as 1,000 shares. There is nothing easier than to cause an apparent, almighty rush for any sort of stock that is "traded in" either on the curb or on the floor of any stock exchange. Do not misunderstand me. I mean custom smelter—the town building and everything in connection with the general development of one of the greatest copper mines in the great Republic of Mexico, would require several pages of this newspaper. AMBITION LED TO BULLARD'S DEATH IN TUBE

Son of Old Cambridge Family Killed by Dread Disease in N. Y. Tunnel.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Ambition to be a successful engineer and master the science of the tunneling industry, which was the ambition of William A. Bullard, son of the late William A. Bullard, bridge man, has led to his untimely death. The young man, who was a graduate of the Harvard University, was killed in a tunnel in New York City. He was a member of the Harvard Engineering Society and had been working on the tunneling industry for some time. He was a very ambitious young man and had a great desire to succeed in his chosen profession. His death is a great loss to his family and to the engineering community.
